Springfield, VA – October 9, 2014, – Versar, Inc. (NYSE MKT: VSR) announced today that its wholly owned subsidiary, J.M. Waller Associates, has been awarded a $2.6 million prime contract from the U.S. General Services Administration to provide Construction Management as Agent (CMa) Services for the new U. S. Department of State Federal Office Building in Charleston, South Carolina. The contract includes design support services, demolition and remediation services, site improvements, and construction of an approximate 120,000 GSF facility. The contract is a single award with a two-year period of performance.

Tony Otten, CEO of Versar said, “We are excited to have this opportunity to work with U. S. Department of State and U. S. General Services Administration and are confident that our teams capabilities are well matched to the project’s requirements. This win underscores the strategic value of our acquisition of J.M. Waller.”
